all-wool, perfectly tailored clothes is not simply because we have them to sell, but because we really think they're best for you; and that's the reason we have them to sell.

It's fine when a man or a business concern can do itself the greatest good by doing its neighbors the greatest good.

CATARH SUFFERERS

GOOD THING TO KNOW

If you now own a Hyomei hard rubber inhaler, Phillips wants you to know that their company will sell you a bottle of HYOMEI for only 50 cents.

Remember this, all who suffer with catarrh—a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounced it High-o-mei) is put up in a separate package and sold for 50 cents, to accommodate the vast army of people who already own a Hyomei inhaler.

Phillips will sell it to you at that price and give you the opportunity to begin at once to rid yourself of vile catarrh and the snuffling, hacking and spitting that go with it.

Many people through years of neglect have let catarrh get a strong hold upon them. Some of these people unreasonably think that one bottle of HYOMEI ought to cure them. No matter how chronic your catarrhal troubles, HYOMEI is guaranteed by Phillips to cure them if you give it half a chance. Just breathe it, that's all, and its healing, soothing, antiseptic properties will make you feel better in a day.

If you own an inhaler get a 50-cent bottle of HYOMEI today. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a $1.00 outfit, which includes inhaler.

It can be found at Royce & Boone's. 19-27-31.

THE SPIDER AND THE FLY

Reversion in Sentiment Regarding Verses Once Used to Point Moral for Children.

What a change has come over the world since the time when children used to be taught what were considered to be pretty verses of the hateful, horrid spider and the innocent little fly who used to be invited to walk into his parlor, and, tempted by many allurement, be there caught, ruthlessly bound hand and foot and cruelly murdered. What a moral lesson is made for the young to avoid the allurements of the world, for the wages of sin is death, and he who loveth the danger shall perish in it. As the French would say: "But, how we have changed all that!" Now we know that any agency that is destructive of the fly is a precious boon to mankind. We know that the harmless, innocent fly, of whom we used to talk during the winter at least in rather pitiful sympathetic tones, though our tune changed sometimes in summer, when he bothered our rest, is one of the most deadly enemies that mankind has. He is probably responsible for more sickness and death, and especially among the children—those to whom he was held up once as an object lesson for sympathy and an ethical warning in the past—than any other single agent. Wars and accidents, and even earthquakes and floods, cannot be compared with musca volitans for sheer destructiveness.—Independent.

NEW POWERFUL MICROSCOPE

Enormous Magnification Is Attained Without Former Blemishes Due to Optical Causes.

There has been exhibited before the Royal society of London a form of microscope, the invention of Professor Gordon, by means of which enormous magnification of an object can, it is stated, be attained without the blemishes due to optical causes that formerly marred such images.

We may suppose that the enlarged image of an object is received from a microscope lens upon a ground glass focusing screen, and that then another microscope is employed still further to enlarge the image so formed. This is, of course, quite feasible, but the grain of the glass would be magnified together with the image and would vitiate the result. Professor Gordon uses a translucent screen of the finest possible texture, and he causes it to be kept in constant motion while the object is being viewed or photographed. By this means the grain of the screen is eliminated and the greatly magnified image of the object alone seen. Specimens magnified to the extent of ten thousand diameters were shown as proofs of the efficacy of the method adopted.—Harper's Weekly.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—WHEAT—

It seems more clear now than at any time during the long decline that anything in the way of a permanent upturn in prices or a natural bull market is out of the question until prices reach a point where we can expect with the rest of the world and sell some surplus wheat. If the milling demand was active in all quarters and sufficient to keep stocks from accumulating there might be some encouragement for buyers, but the milling situation in this country has not been so stagnant and the flour outlook so depressing in years as now. The early buyers were forced to sell out at a loss before the close. The market finished heavy at a break of one cent for the day. Any temporary rebound in price means the spot to sell.

CORN—It is not time for new corn to move. The declining prices certainly make it no inducement for corn raisers to be in a hurry to offer their new crop. They have only made a good start in gathering their corn yield for the year. When the crop is husked enough of it will be for sale to give Chicago a large movement and an accumulation of stocks. For the present, while local shorts are evening up in December and giving fairly good bulges in May prices, we believe it is the opportunity for conservative traders to take the selling side of the late month on hand spots.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—CATTLE: Receipts, 400; steady; heaves, $4.50@4.70; Texas steers, $3.31@3.60; west ern steers $4@6.70; stockers and feeders $4.15@5.40; cows and heifers $2.20@6.20; calves $7@10.25. Hogs: Receipts, 7,000; higher at $7.65@8.95.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29.—CATTLE: Receipts 371; quiet; fair to good ship pers $5.25@6.25; common $2.25@3.25. Hogs: Receipts 1,254; active and 10 to 15 cents higher; butchers and shippers, $8.80@8.90; common $5@8.25. Sheep: Receipts 114; steady at $2@4; lambs steady at $3.50@6.65.

OATS—Oats will follow weakness displayed in corn.

PROVISIONS—Gelt says 7,000 hogs as estimated and 16,000 last week. The trade is mixed as regards the action of packers in handling prices during November and December. They doubtless have a fair line of stuff in their cellars made from high priced hogs.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 29.—Wheat: 95@98c; corn firm, 50½@51c; oats firm, 32½@33c; rye, firm, 80@81c; provisions steady; butter steady eggs firm 20@30c per doz.; poultry steady; springers, 11½c per lb.; hens, 11c; turkey, 15c.

If you have lost your sweetheart ask Gallano at the opera house, November 1.

The Mob.

A mob is of society of bodies voluntarily benevolence themselves of reason and traversing its work. A mob is man voluntarily descending to the nature of the beast. Its fit hour of activity is night. Its actions are insane like its whole constitution. It persecutes a principle; it would whip a right; it would tar and feather justice, by inflicting fire and outrage upon the houses and persons of those who have these. It resembles the prank of boys who run with fire engines to put out the ruddy aurora streaming to the stars.—R. W. Emerson.

Pardonable Curiosity.

That cats occasionally "suck the breath" of sleeping persons is a persistent belief as recent news items indicate. Recently the story was told of a cat nearly strangling an infant and the fact was explained on the supposition that the child's milk-laden breath had attracted the animal. But from New York comes the story of a man brought near to the point of death by a cat that used his bosom as a couch and his chin as a pillow. It is not impossible that his breath was milk-laden, but it is somewhat improbable. Without making any insinuations, one may be pardoned for wondering whether or not the cat had been raised in a saloon.

Make Use of Spare Time.

Young man, don't sit with folded hands, calling on Hercules. Help yourself. Take an hour every day from your frivolous pursuits, employ that hour profitably on some hobby, and if only of ordinary capacity you will master some science. Try the experiment. Even though you may now be an ignorant man, you may become a well-informed man in ten years. Hundreds who have had no better opportunities than you have risen above the commonplace. But they made more of their spare time.

Putting It Neatly.

Bernard Shaw, although a vegetarian himself, did not fail to see the possibility of humor in the practice. Presiding at a meeting, he was called upon to introduce Sir Edward Lyova, who confined his diet to nuts. "And now," said Mr. Shaw, "I present to you Sir Edward Lyova, he is of the earth, earthy, and of the nuts, nutty."

Camel Fleesh.

The Bedouins eat the flesh of the camel and as a mark of distinction slaughter a camel when a noted guest visits them. Camel flesh is also eaten by Mohammedan peasants, and the poorer classes of Mohammedan city people of Jaffa and Gaza. The skins are used as a rawhide to sole the shoes worn by peasants.
